Private Grant to Fund Dental Care for Families

Most people are not aware that dental disease is one of the most common medical problems in our pets, affecting two-thirds of our pet population. For these pets, most of their owners do not realize the seriousness of the pet's dental problem.

In some cases, the family is not aware that the pet is in need of dental care. But even if a veterinarian has pointed out that a dental cleaning would help the pet, it can be difficult to appreciate the need for such a recommendation.

It is easy to understand that, by nature, we tend to focus on what we can see externally, while dismissing conditions that are not directly in sight. As pet owners, we do not routinely look in our pet's mouth, and probably would not recognize tartar and gingivitis. It may be more difficult to ignore foul breath, which is often a sign of more advanced dental disease and infection.

Even for the folks that have considered scheduling a dental, it can be difficult to justify the expense. But when we consider the long-term benefit, the cost is nominal. It has been proven in both humans and animals that good oral health will directly affect overall health and longevity. So how do we bridge this impasse?

We would like to introduce you to Mr. McCaig—a client and a friend to everyone at Woodhaven. Mr. McCaig is an exceptional man, with a compassionate heart for people and their pets. This year, Mr. McCaig has made a generous contribution to our clinic with the intention of helping people keep their pets happy and healthy.

We all decided that an offer to subsidize the expense involved with dental care would be a great way to help multiple pets stay healthy. Mr. McCaig is thrilled to be a part of the solution to our concerns regarding dental health problems in pets.

Starting immediately, Mr. McCaig will subsidize 25% of the total invoice for dental care services and treatments provided at Woodhaven. This generous Dental Care Grant will be will be offered to the first forty people that schedule a dental cleaning for their dog(s) or cat(s), and it is not necessary to be an established client prior to scheduling.

We are here to help your pet! Call today with any questions and to reserve an appointment for your pet(s).

Comprehensive Care Includes Acupuncture & Chiropractic Therapy

At times, we have felt the frustration of a patient that does not respond to the treatments we have prescribed. Sometimes conventional medical therapies are not enough. Through the years, we have reached out to alternative modalities to include chiropractic care, as well as traditional acupuncture and herbal therapies for a few of our patients.

We believe we have had great success with many cases (including our own pets) by embracing an integrative medical philosophy, doing what is best for the particular patient

We are thrilled to announce that Dr. Patty Glover will provide acupuncture, chiropractic and/or herbal therapies for dog and cat patients. Dr. Patty will travel from Hortonville to our clinic every month to care for companion pets.

Dr. Patty graduated from the Veterinary School at the University of Minnesota. After graduation, she pursued additional training in both Chiropractic and Acupuncture, obtaining full certification in each modality.

As a veterinarian, Dr. Patty is able to provide comprehensive care for your pet, combining conventional and traditional therapies.

Dr. Patty is accepting new patients as her schedule permits. Please call Lisa with any questions or to schedule your appointment at 341-9664.

Dr. Patty will be at Woodhaven on Thursday, January 28, 2010.
